A Crucible of Conflict

The Balkans, a volatile patchwork of nations, served as a tinderbox for the outbreak of WWI. As the flames of conflict ignited in 1914, the region became a complex and bloody battleground, where empires clashed and nations fought for their very survival.

Austria-Hungary vs. Serbia: The Spark That Ignited the War

The assassination of Archduke Franz Ferdinand of Austria in Sarajevo, the provincial capital of Bosnia-Herzegovina, on June 28, 1914, ignited a chain of events that led to the outbreak of WWI. Austria-Hungary, seeking to punish Serbia for its alleged role in the assassination, declared war on July 28th, 1914. Thus, the powder keg of Europe exploded, drawing the Great Powers into a cataclysmic conflict.

The Dance of Attrition
