The Golden Girls features a cast of four unforgettable characters:

- Dorothy Zbornak is a divorced substitute teacher who is sharp-tongued and sarcastic. She is the glue that holds the group together, and she is always there for her friends.
- Rose Nylund is a naive and ditzy widow from St. Olaf, Minnesota. She is always getting into trouble, but she is also kind and caring.
- Blanche Devereaux is a promiscuous Southern belle who is always looking for a good time. She is vain and superficial, but she is also loyal to her friends.
- Sophia Petrillo is Dorothy's mother, a feisty and opinionated woman who is always getting into trouble. She is a bit of a hypochondriac, but she is also very wise and loving.

The Golden Girls is a show about friendship. The four women are very different, but they love and support each other unconditionally. They are always there for each other, through thick and thin.

The show also explores the relationships between the women and their children. Dorothy has a difficult relationship with her ex-husband, Stan, and her daughter, Kate. Rose is close with her son, Charlie, but she is also struggling to come to terms with his death. Blanche is estranged from her daughter, Rebecca, but she is close with her sister, Virginia. Sophia has a complex relationship with her daughter, Dorothy, but she loves her unconditionally.

The Golden Girls is a timeless classic that continues to be enjoyed by fans around the world. The show has been praised for its humor, heart, and its positive portrayal of older women.

The Golden Girls has had a lasting impact on popular culture. The show has been parodied and referenced in countless other TV shows, movies, and songs. The characters have become icons, and they continue to inspire and entertain fans of all ages.
