Classic Horror Movies

No Halloween is complete without a few classic horror movies. Here are a few of our favorites:

- Halloween (1978): John Carpenter's seminal slasher film is still one of the most terrifying movies ever made. Michael Myers is a truly iconic villain, and the film's simple but effective plot and suspenseful atmosphere make it a must-watch for any horror fan.
- A Nightmare on Elm Street (1984): Wes Craven's classic horror film introduced the world to Freddy Krueger, one of the most iconic horror villains of all time. Freddy's ability to invade people's dreams makes him a truly terrifying threat, and the film's gruesome special effects are sure to keep you on the edge of your seat.
- The Exorcist (1973): William Friedkin's controversial horror masterpiece is still one of the most terrifying movies ever made. The film's realistic depiction of demonic possession is truly disturbing, and the film's iconic special effects are sure to stay with you long after you've seen it.
- The Shining (1980): Stanley Kubrick's adaptation of Stephen King's novel is a masterpiece of psychological horror. Jack Nicholson gives an iconic performance as Jack Torrance, a writer who descends into madness while isolated at a remote hotel. The film's stunning visuals and haunting atmosphere make it a must-see for any horror fan.
- Psycho (1960): Alfred Hitchcock's classic thriller is a masterclass in suspense. The film's iconic shower scene is one of the most famous and terrifying moments in cinema history, and Anthony Perkins' performance as Norman Bates is truly unforgettable.

Fang-Tastic TV Episodes

If you're looking for a less scary way to celebrate Halloween, there are plenty of fang-tastic TV episodes to choose from. Here are a few of our favorites:

- "Treehouse of Horror" (The Simpsons): The Simpsons have been producing Halloween-themed episodes for over 30 years, and they've produced some truly classic episodes. Our favorites include "Treehouse of Horror V" (which features a parody of The Shining), "Treehouse of Horror VII" (which features a parody of The Exorcist), and "Treehouse of Horror XIII" (which features a parody of The Ring).
- "Halloween" (Brooklyn Nine-Nine): This hilarious episode of Brooklyn Nine-Nine features the squad competing in a Halloween heist. The episode is full of clever twists and turns, and it's sure to get you in the Halloween spirit.
- "The Halloween Episode" (Parks and Recreation): This episode of Parks and Recreation features the Pawnee Parks and Recreation Department throwing a Halloween party. The episode is full of funny moments, and it's a great way to celebrate Halloween with your friends.
- "Halloween" (Community): This episode of Community is a hilarious and heartwarming celebration of Halloween. The episode features the study group dressing up as their favorite characters from horror movies, and it's sure to put a smile on your face.
- "Halloween Kills" (Buffy the Vampire Slayer): This episode of Buffy the Vampire Slayer is a classic Halloween episode. The episode features Buffy and her friends fighting off a horde of vampires, and it's sure to get you in the Halloween spirit.
